

.NET C# Software Engineer – Team Lead

We are seeking software engineers with leadership experience for Leads360. They will be responsible for designing, developing and maintaining our on-demand lead management application. He/she should possess strong application development experience and a strong desire to build cutting edge software.

Responsibilities include being creative, inventive and inspired to build great software. Work with professional services, product development, sales and executive teams to architect new features and functionality. Learn and deploy the latest Microsoft technologies and mentor less senior staff to do the same.

Required Skills/Experience

- Extensive knowledge of Microsoft technologies a must including;ASP.NET 2.0, C#, SQL 2005, AJAX, Web Services
- Experience with on-demand, SaaS, ASP software helpful
- Understanding of business workflow and corporate goal analysis
- Large multi-tier apps w/ thousands of simultaneous users
- Extremely detail oriented
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- High enthusiasm and consistent follow-through
- Confidence and experience working with the public
- Honesty and helpfulness with a strong desire to succeed in the position
- B.S. or B.A. College Degree

This role reports to: VP, Engineering

What's so great about this job anyway?

Leads360 builds great software and is a great company. Our product is remarkably versatile and our rapidly growing customer base is genuinely excited about implementing it. We foster a supportive and collaborative work environment where employees actually have fun. Group outings and comfortable office space makes a great way to inspire people; it's hard not to love what you do here. What's more, we offer a generous benefits package that includes:

- Highly competitive salary
- A variety of medical coverage choices
- 401K (with matching)
- Flexible time-off

Linked-In

Leads360 is an on-demand software company with over 10,000 subscribers. We're looking for 2 more killer .NET C# guys to join our development team of five.

Required Skills: C#, SQL2K3, AJAX, multi-tier enterprise apps, detail oriented, fired-up, and ready to kill it.

We're a very entrepreneurial and profitable company with a great office environment. We have a LOT of fun here and build very strong software. If this sounds like someplace you would fit in, and you live close by, we want to meet you.

Highly competitive salary, benefits, 401K (with matching), flexible time off.